Verse 1

The dawn comes up too late this morning.
And I know.
The sun and moon and stars are still burning.
And I know.
This day will keep me low and yearning.
And I know...
You're not coming back. You're not coming back.

Verse 2

The sky darkens inside my soul.
And I know.
I hear the rain outside my window.
And I know.
This day will keep me damp and cold.
And I know...

Bridge

There's just one thing I've got to say.
Just one thing before you go away.
Tomorrow dawns at the end of the day.
And in the light I'll find my way.
If You're not coming back. If You're not coming back.

Bridge 2

I'm going to live to fight on, right on, come what may.

Verse 3

The evening is fast approaching.
And I know.
These empty covers leave me choking.
And I know.
I'm sitting on your side and smoking. Don't you know?
I'm the best you'll ever have.
No don't come back. Don't you come back.
Don't you come back.
